A Prognosti-

cation, made for the yere of our lozre God. 1569. serving for all Europe wherein is plainly declared the matation of the ayre, by the .iij. partes of the yere, by the quarters of the Spone, with other good necessarie rules and documentes: composed and gathered by Ioachim Hubricht, Doctor in Philosophie and Astronomie, of Spindelho-

rove in sea-

lande.

¶ Of the fower partes of this yere and of their temperature.
Of Winter the first part.

The winter parte of this yere hath his beginnyng when as the Sunne entereth into the firste minute of Capricorne, whiche shall bee this yere, the twelste date of December, at his west digression to the South. This parte by his nature and kynde is geuen to be variable, verie colde with bitter winde, sitchemisses and raine. Also harde frost, snowe and flete, whiche shall be noysome both to manne and beast, bredyng by extraordinary colde, painfull grief in the flanke, diseases in the sides, Blureshes, Itiches, Reumes, Collicke and illiacke passion, with other molestations of the bellye, Coughes, sozenes of the breast, Gontes, strangurie, sickness of the secrettes, inflammation of the Tongues, shopenes of breath, perillous paines in the head and eares, tumours in the throte, Spasme Dallie, dropse, & all diseases comyng by reume & colde.

¶ The Prediction of the Sprynge, the seconde parte of this yere.

The seconde parte of this yere, is the Sprynge, whiche after the Astronomers accompte is the beginnyng of the yere, and this yere it entereth the tweluth date of Marche, whē as the Sonne entreteth the first minute of Aries, in the Equinoctiall of the Dome, as touchyng temperature thereof it shall be disposed to muche varietie, claudie skynne obscure weather, sharpe winde and soden blastes whiche shal induce these diseases, as Mophewes Agues comyng of abundance of hote bloude vicers scabbes in the body melancollicke madnesse, pimples in the face, Impostumes run-nyng bloude, greete grief in the ioyntes with boneache swelling paine vnder the ribbes, with spittynge bloo and bleddyng at nose, shopenesse of breath by yll disposition of the

A Prognostication.

the Liver and the脾enne, which shall be hardened and stiffe, many yonge persones shall be provoked to homer with greate varietie of the tyme, all cressie thynges shal beginne to spring accordyng to nature, but yet somewhat they shall be molested by displeasable weather.

¶ The declaration of the Sommer, the thirde quarter of this yere.

Sommer this present yere shall beginne when as the Sonne doeth enter into the first minute of Cancer, in his highest declination Northward, which shall be the .xxj. daie of June. The weather shalbe greatly enclined to heate, lightnyng and thonder, somewhat enclined to rain and sobein windes, cloude and darke procuryng the death of many oren and cattell, with many infirmities, as rednes of the eyes, burnyng sciers, swelllyng in the face, fransies, paines in the head, Cankers in the month and throte, gripes at the harte and liver, commynge of hotte Agues that shall raigne this Sommer with divers strange and newe infirmities.

¶ The inclination of the .iiij. and last part called Harvest, or the fall of the Lease.

Harvest hath his begynnyng when as the Sonne cometh to the Equinoctiall of the Sommer, which shall bee the fourtene daie of September. This season shall come in faire and temperate, but afterwarde variable, wherof shall spring long and greete sicknesses engendred by yll humours melancolicke, Cruticke fevers, Quartaine agues, Dropsie, Schitike, consumption of the bodie, Ulcers of the Tongue, paine in the belly and guttes, Quinancie, paine under the ribbes coughes with stoppyng of the breath, strangurie, blacke Jaundie, pallidnes of the spleene and moones. These with many other infirmities, the foresaid alterations, are like to induce. But God I truste (of his infallible goodnes) will turne froo all those inconveniences which the heavens & their influences do prognosticate unto vs. Amē.
